New Pact Will Control Cotton Goods Trade

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House released today the draft of an arrangement under which the United States would join 18 other nations in a pact aimed at controlling the volume of trade in cotton goods. Under its terms, of cotton textiles may be frozen for two years.

None of the 19 nations has signed the plan which would take effect Oct. 1.

The five-year arrangement was reached in Geneva a week ago by the nations accounting for 90 per cent of the textile trade in the non-communist world.

The White House said the arrangement will help the U.S. Cotton textile industry shall have a "competitive position with the confidence that foreign imports will not disrupt their activities."

The American industry has been demanding protection from competing imports and the U.S. Tariff Commission is holding hearings to decide whether an extra 8½ cent duty should be imposed on cotton goods entering this country.

The 19-nation agreement "recognizes the need to take cooperative and constructive action with a view to the development of world trade." However it also notes that in "some countries situations have arisen which, in the view of these countries, cause or threaten to cause 'disruption' of the market for cotton textiles."

Consequently it was agreed that during the "next few years, special practical measures of international cooperation must be applied to ease the readjustment of world textile trade."

Thus the agreement was designed to both promote trade and protect markets.

The White House said that under the arrangement's terms "an important nation threatened by or subjected to market disruption on any item or category of cotton textiles may freeze imports for one year. If this market condition persists, the freeze may be extended for yet another year to the level of the first 12 of the preceding 15 months."

Following that, increases may be limited to 5 per cent a year.

White House officials said the Inter-agency Cotton Textile Committee, headed by Undersecretary of Commerce Hicman Price, or a similar group will determine whether textile imports from Japan, Hong Kong and other areas are disrupting the American market.

The long-term agreement would take the place of a one-year agreement which expires next Oct. 1.

$5 Increase in Welfare Pay Indicates Gov. Faubus May Be Fifth Term Candidate

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus today announced a $5 increase in welfare grants, touching off fresh speculation that he will seek a fifth term.

In the past, Faubus has used a boost in welfare payments as a prelude to announcing for re-election.

The increase announced today will take effect April 1.

It was authorized by the 1961 Legislature, which increased the maximum grant from $60 to $65 a month.

Faubus said he had instructed Welfare Commissioner Carl Adams to re-evaluate all welfare cases in preparation for putting the increase into effect.

Faubus still declined to discuss the possibility that he may run, but he had some comment on reports that Rep. Dale Afford, who already has announced for governor, is saying around the state that Faubus will not run.

"I've heard about him—doing this," Faubus said. "He has no authority to do so and it's completely improper. He can say it's his opinion I will not run, but he has no right to say he has knowledge to that effect. He has no such knowledge."

Faubus said Afford in promoting his candidacy had "received quite a number of rebuffs and this is the approach that has a better possibility of gaining him some support."

Faubus said he also knew that former Gov. Sid McMath "has several emissaries who are quite active" in attempting to set up McMath as a 1962 gubernatorial candidate.

Faubus was asked directly if any link should be made between the welfare increase and his possible candidacy.

Newsman noted re-election announcements in the past had followed such increases.

Faubus said he did not remember a past link between welfare and his candidacy.

"I am very glad that it is difficult to remember the number of increases that have been given the old folks and just when they were given," Faubus said.

Faubus said not all welfare recipients would get the entire increase and the re-evaluation being made by Adams would determine who is to get how much.

The increase will go to those on assistance rolls for old age, blind and disabled.

Faubus said no increase is authorized in the aid to dependent children category.

The governor said the increase would affect $6,150 cases in the old age category, 1,974 blind and 7,617 disabled.

He estimated the annual cost of the increase at $4 million for the aged, $1,125,000 for blind and $500,000 for the disabled.

Faulty Memory Proves Costly

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A juror who said he forgot to show up one morning during the trial of a damage suit learned that his faulty memory will cost him $150.

Judge Robert Floyd told Walter Leo, the juror, that his contempt of court sentence would be to pay the amount of excess costs of the lost morning.

Louis Vernell, the plaintiff's attorney, reported Thursday that his extra cost was an hour and a half waiting time for a doctor—one of his witnesses—at $100 an hour.

Bland Trying to Save Violators of ESD Rules

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — J. L. Bland, director of the state Employment Security Division, is in Washington conferring with federal officials on the status of two ESD employees the commission ordered the state to fire for violation of the Hatch Act.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus announced today that Bland was in Washington on the case.

Deadline for firing the two men — Luke Arnett and Charles F. Wood — was Thursday.

The Civil Service Commission found them and a third man, William Watkins, had solicited campaign funds for Faubus in 1960.

It ordered all three discharged. Watkins resigned Feb. 1, but the other two remained on the payroll.

The government "cannot force the state to fire the men, but it can withhold from federal funds an amount equal to twice their annual salaries if they are retained."

Arnett earns approximately $7,300 a year as ESD attorney and Wood about $5,200 as assistant manager of the ESD's Little Rock office.

The Hatch Act prohibits political activity by federal employees. State employees of the ESD are covered by it since they are paid entirely with federal money.

Robt. H. Spragins, 93, Dies at Taylor

He is survived by a brother, T. E. Spragins of Mt. Holly, several nieces and nephews. The body will remain in Lewis Funeral Home at Magnolia pending funeral arrangements by Oakcrest Funeral Service of Hope.

Fighters Will Be Used by Allies to Clear Air Corridor

By CARL HARTMAN

BERLIN (AP)—Informed sources said Western military airmen, backing up a protest to Moscow, flew to isolated Berlin today in a corridor whose lower levels the Soviet Union wanted to reserve for its own planes. The weather was bad.

This time the Hamburg-Berlin corridor, northernmost of three such links, was involved. It runs across Communist territory to Berlin from the area of the British zone.

At least one U.S. military plane was reported to have made the flight from Hamburg.

Commercial planes kept regular schedules. They generally fly above the altitude the Soviets set for the lower-level operations.

There was no immediate report of any incident.

The Western Big Three was reported ready to send fighter patrols into the corridors unless Soviet MIGs stop buzzing Allied military and civilian traffic.

The Soviets were accused of playing a "reckless and dangerous" game by Allied officials who admitted they were puzzled by the Soviet harassment.

U.S. officials in Washington expressed fear that a dangerous situation could develop rapidly if the Soviets keep up their air antics in the 20-mile-wide corridors linking West Berlin and West Germany.

The United States, Britain and France in stiff notes to Moscow Thursday charged the Soviets with "aggressive and dangerous behavior" and warned the Allies were determined to protect their rights to clear air passage to this outpost 110 miles inside Communist territory.

"The United States government," the U.S. note said, "will take the necessary steps to insure the safety of such flights (of transport and passenger aircraft) and will hold the Soviet government responsible for the consequences of any incidents which might occur."

The Soviets five times in the past week asked for exclusive use of various of the three Berlin air corridors below the 7,500-foot flight level for certain periods (to carry out maneuvers. The Allies, sensing a move to chop away at their air rights to isolated Berlin, said each flight would have to be cleared individually by the four-power air safety center in Berlin.

Group Okays Urban Bill, But Senate Snags

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's plan to establish a cabinet-level Urban Affairs Department has cleared a House committee hurdle and run into a snag in the Senate.

The House Government Affairs Committee Thursday smoothed the way a bit for Kennedy's reorganization plan by recommending against a resolution of disapproval.

But, in the Senate, where the administration hoped for a vote by the Government Operations Committee by Tuesday, Committee Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said he did not plan to adopt any hasty tactics.

The administration's timetable called for the Senate to act before the House. The House committee, therefore, does not plan final action on the proposal until after the Senate takes its stand.

McClellan, an opponent of the plan, said he did not know if his committee could complete its hearings in time for a vote Tuesday.

The House Committee vote on the resolution of disapproval was not announced, but it was understood to have been largely along party lines.

Kennedy can put his plan into effect unless it is vetoed in either chamber before the end of March.

Cuba Charge Defeated by UN Group

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Cuba's charge that the United States is plotting to invade her shores wound up on the U.N. scrap heap today after the General Assembly's main political committee roundly defeated a Communist resolution supporting Fidel Castro's claims.

The Committee rejected both key paragraphs of the resolution by Czechoslovakia and Romania calling on the United States to halt alleged interference in Cuba's internal affairs.

Defeat of the resolution was seen as a triumph for the United States, which had labeled the 11-day debate a Red propaganda show staged to deflect attention from the action of the Organization of American States excluding Cuba from the inter-American system.

With the two operative sections knocked out, the committee chairman, Mario Amadeo of Argentina, declared the whole resolution defeated.

As a result, no further balloting is needed on the issue. The General Assembly, which is expected to meet Monday, will probably just note that the resolution was killed in committee.

Soviet Delegate Valerian A. Zorin, who had fought hard for the proposal, angrily told the committee after the vote that he believed in adhering to the principles of the U.N. Charter calling for non-intervention in the affairs of sovereign states.

The committee voted 30 against and only 11 for the paragraph which would have had the assembly appeal to the United States "to put an end to the interference" in the internal affairs of Cuba. Only Cuba and the Soviet bloc voted for the clause and there were 39 abstentions, mostly from Asia and Africa.

Grandmother Convicted of Murder

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — A Garland Circuit Court jury found Mrs. Carrie Talley, 68, guilty of second degree murder Thursday night in the fatal shooting of her granddaughter, and fixed her punishment at five years in prison.

Circuit Judge P. E. Dobbs said sentence would be passed next Thursday. Defense attorney Nathan Schoenfeld said "at this time, it is my opinion that we will appeal."

He said he would have to talk with Mrs. Talley and her family before taking further action.

The jury deliberated 7½ hours and brought in the verdict a few minutes before midnight. At 9 p.m. the jury reported it was deadlocked 10-2, but gave no indication which way it leaned.

Mrs. Talley was tried for the Sept. 13, 1960, death of 17-year-old Carolyn Jeanne Talley at a house where the grandmother was baby sitting. Mrs. Talley broke down on the witness stand Thursday and, weeping, said, "I wouldn't have had it happen for anything in the world."

Mrs. Talley said the shooting was an accident.

Two young sisters with whom Mrs. Talley was baby sitting the night of the shooting testified Thursday. Donna Terry, 12, said she saw Mrs. Talley "shaking" moments before Carolyn was shot.

Her sister, Judy, 14, a polio victim, testified from her wheelchair that she had seen a pistol on an ironing board and later saw the victim pulling on the front door. Judy said she heard the pistol shot and looked up and asked Mrs. Talley if the girl had been hit, and she said Mrs. Talley told her she didn't know.

Mrs. Mary Josephine Talley, mother of the dead girl, testified Wednesday that she and Carolyn had been for a drive and had stopped at the house. The mother said Carolyn ran to the porch and she heard the grandmother say, "I'll learn you not to come up here."

Out to Lunch Very Long Time

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — On Feb. 5 James T. Patrick, 22, went "out to lunch" from his job as a payroll clerk in a Berkeley manufacturing company.

Thursday Berkeley police were asked to check Patrick's financial background by a Las Vegas, Nev., gaming club. Officers checked. They said they found Patrick owed $3,002 to his company.

Officers said the $3,002 apparently disappeared along with Patrick 11 days ago. They added Patrick is being held by Las Vegas authorities.

Top Level Steel Talks Continue

By BOB VOELKER

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Top-level negotiators resumed talks today on a new labor contract for the nation's basic steelworkers.

Neither David J. McDonald, United Steelworkers president, nor R. Conrad Cooper, U.S. Steel Corp. vice president and chief industry bargainer, had any comment as they met for the second day.

McDonald and Cooper held two sessions Thursday in their first formal get-together in the 1962 steel negotiations.

Compensation for Mechanic

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — An airplane mechanic who said he lost his hearing because of daily exposure to the roar of jet engines is entitled to workmen's compensation, the Georgia Court of Appeals ruled Thursday.

The State Board of Workmen's Compensation and a lower court had rejected the claim of E. L. Shipman, a flight line mechanic for six years at Lockheed Aircraft Corp. in nearby Marietta.

Man, Wife Dies Within Minutes

CLARKSTON, Wash. (AP) — Perry A. Hilton, 74, suffered a fatal heart attack Thursday and his wife, Mabel, 76, collapsed and died minutes later after running to the neighbors for help.

Coroner Donald W. Moore said the heart attacks occurred within five minutes of each other. Neighbors said Mrs. Hilton ran for help when her husband collapsed, then fell to the floor as bystanders applied artificial respiration to the stricken man.

Unable to Keep Plant Operating

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Walter Nesbitt, trustee of the Twentieth Century Foods Corp. milk processing plant of Salem, Ark., told U.S. District Court Thursday that he had been unable to work out a plan for operating the plant and, unless such a plan can be found, he must conclude that the business should be discontinued. The plant was financed by $220,500 in bonds issued by the Salem Industrial Development Corp. The state owns $107,500 worth. The plant closed Nov. 1 after it was unable to meet payments.

Cites Advantage of Price Stabilization

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An assistant secretary of agriculture has touted price stabilization regulations as a means to help the farmer achieve economic advantages of other professions.

Dr. James T. Ralph, the official, told the state conference of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service that economic equality for the farmer can be achieved through government marketing quotas and price supports or through self-regulation by the farmers.

He said the medical and legal professions have set high standards and thereby restricted the number of persons who may practice. This is a form of quality control, he said, and "All I ask is that the farmers be given the same privilege."

fusals, informed sources said the Soviets again asked exclusive use today of the Hamburg-Berlin corridor below 7,500 feet for three hours.

Information on the Soviet aircraft operations had not been submitted to the four-power Berlin air safety center, the U.S. note charged. In one instance on Wednesday a MIG fighter flew close to a Royal Air Force plane carrying Sir Christopher Steel, Britain's ambassador in West Germany.

The Western notes declared any attempt by the Soviets to take over "exclusive use of flight levels for any period of time is entirely unacceptable."

The Soviet maneuvers were described as harassing tactics. A spokesman for U.S. Air Force's European headquarters in Wiesbaden said Thursday: "There was no interference with our aircraft."

Professor Lost Memory, He Claims

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP)—Exit—Dr. Carl Vernon Holmberg, associate professor in forest chemistry at Syracuse University, married and father of three children. Enter—Verne Hansen, 51, an hour factory worker living alone in a second-class hotel.

That transformation was the decision today of a 45-year-old man who has been identified as a college professor who dropped out of sight nearly seven years ago.

Hansen was unmasked as Holmberg Wednesday by a routine check of fingerprints after he was arrested for a traffic violation.

A review of events since he disappeared from Syracuse University, May 11, 1955, showed:

The professor's wife, Dorothy, divorced him two years ago believing he was dead or never would return. She moved to California with their three sons—Carl, now 18; Lee, 11, and Richard, 9. Last year, she married Gordon Bahcock, a consulting electronics engineer. The family lives in Menlo Park, Calif.

The professor said the last thing he remembers about his present life is a car lift a motorist gave him from Elgin, Ill., to Rockford some time in 1955.

He took a job as a pigment grinder in a paint factory and, records show, in November 1959 married Mabel Ostling, 42. They are separated.

The professor made it clear at a news conference Thursday that Package. The next meeting, February 28 will be with Mrs. D. E. Paris.

DOROTHY DIX

Her Husband Said Proudly, "My Home Is Where My Family Is"

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: Half of my 20 years of married life was spent traveling with a family of "army brats" in foreign lands. Sometimes we weren't always in friendly lands. Often the children had to be guarded because of local disturbances. Frequently when government authorization was late, we paid our own way.

I have dipped water out of the well in a cabin on the Bering Sea, driven 80 miles across three borders to reach the commissary or PX and lived with fans when the temperature soared to 120.

I have wondered if the baby would survive the sizzling heat or sub-zero temperatures with ice on the inside walls of our cabin. The oldest boy at 12 had only two years formal schooling but we made up for it by subscribing to a correspondence course through the ninth grade. When we finally came home to stay, each child was a grade above those his age.

Their father died of service injuries the year we returned. Had I remained safely behind instead of literally picking up the children and following Daddy from pillar to post, they would never have really known their father. As it is they remember the kind things he did—how he helped them with their lessons, his pride when their workers made 50 cents an hour in 1961, and the department might require a raise to 70 cents. But Rep. E. C. Gathings, D-Ark., has challenged the department's authority to require such a raise.

Gathings said Thursday that it is up to Congress to set the pay scale and that Congress rejected last year a proposal to give the Labor Department authority in the matter.

But under federal law the department can refuse to permit the use of imported workers where conditions are considered unfit. Louisiana, Virginia, North Carolina, executive vice president of the Arkansas Agriculture Council, said Thursday that fewer Mexican nationals would be used by Arkansas farmers this year if this increase is effected.

The state used 20,924 Mexican laborers during the peak harvest season last year, compared to 35,000 in 1960. They are used mainly to chop cotton.

he doesn't want to return now to his old station in life.

"For the time being, it is almost imperative that I remain what I am," he said. "There seems no necessity of digging back to uncover a life I know nothing about."

In California, the former Mrs. Holmberg said: "I have no further interest in Dr. Holmberg. We have no connection with him, either legally or emotionally, any more."

Hansen didn't question that he and Holmberg are the same persons.

"I was very astonished at discovering the results of the fingerprint checks," he said. "It still seems incredible, but it also seems that the authorities have the facts and I must assume they are correct."

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP)—A hearing will be held by the Labor Department here March 2 on a proposal to require Arkansas farmers to give Mexican farm workers a 20-cents-an-hour wage increase this year.

monthly test papers came back with good grades.

Even the youngest still talks of the time Daddy brought home an unexpected treat or took her to a party. All this paid for the long tedious days of travel, the arrival in strange, lonely railroad depots, the language barrier between me and bored station-masters.

It was worth all the shots if necessitated, for boiling water and washing the fruit with chlorine—all the hardships just to hear my husband say proudly, "Home is where my family is."

Those dear words made up for lack of the comfort and security we might have had marking time in the States. —Janice Cacek, Tacoma, Wash.

Dear Mrs. Cacek: Your husband must have been proud of you!

Dear Helen: What is there to be done about an 80-year-old husband gallivanting with the girls? Mine is getting the sillies where they are concerned. He goes all aflame if a young girl or woman even so much as looks at him. I am left at home while he dances, plays bingo and sightsees. —Mrs. V.

Dear Mrs. V.: Find out what elixir of life he is taking and try some of the same yourself. Cheers for his vitality and spirit! Chances are, if you could stand the pace, he would ride you around in the handwagon too.

Dear Helen: My son-in-law lies.

He cooks up fantastic stories about my husband and me caring more for our son than our daughter. There is not a word of truth but she believes them all.

We have taken them both on vacation trips and do everything humanly possible for them—buy them groceries, give them money, get her clothes, for at 30 he is out of a job. Our daughter is hopelessly confused by his everlasting lying, so are we.

I asked him once why he did lie. He said, "Maybe I like to lie." We don't believe in divorce. How can we help our son-in-law to stop his lying and be a man? —Worried Mother

Dear Worried: Your son-in-law must resent the help you have given him and his family and, as often happens in such cases, lies to down-grade you and up-grade himself.

Stop playing good angel. Force him to be the provider for a change by first explaining to your daughter why. Once he proves himself a man, if he can, he will quit lying.

Wet, Stormy Weather in Wide Section

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

More wet and stormy weather hit wide sections of the nation today.

Snow and sleet spread across areas in the Midwest and West. More rain doused water-soaked, muddy sections of Southern California. And severe thunderstorms rumbled across areas in the Southeast in the wake of tornadoes which skipped across parts of Mississippi and Louisiana.

A snowstorm moved across the northern Upper Mississippi Valley through the western and southern Great Lakes region with falls up to six inches in Minnesota.

The storm headed eastward to the Atlantic Coast, the region hit by a heavy snow storm Wednesday and Thursday. Snowfalls ranged up to two feet in parts of New York state. Storm-related deaths in the Northeast numbered at least 28, including 13 in Connecticut, 7 in Massachusetts, 6 in New York state and 2 in Rhode Island. Most of the deaths were in auto accidents on snow-covered highways or from over-exertion in shoveling snow.

Tornado alerts were in effect during the early morning, from east central Mississippi to west central Georgia. Twisters Thursday caused minor property damage near Ruston, in northern Louisiana, and near Grenada, Miss. No injuries were reported.

Body Is Found After Two Weeks

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—The body of a Negro woman missing from her home about two weeks was found Wednesday in a water filled ravine in the northern section of the city.

Assistant Police Chief Bill Howard tentatively identified the woman as Erlene Kitchens, 30.

An investigation was started to determine if foul play was involved in her death.

Shoes Need Shoes

SHERILL, N.Y. (AP)—The Shoes are going to need a lot more shoes because there's a lot more Shues.

Douglas Shue, and his wife, Barbara, who were the parents of five children, today are the parents of eight.

Mrs. Shue gave birth to triplets all boys—in Oneida City Hospital Wednesday.

Welcomed Barely

DENPASAR, Bali (AP)—About 100 bare-shouldered girls with golden leaves in their hair staged a welcoming dance for the Robert F. Kennedy on their arrival in Bali today.

The girls giggled and smiled as they danced. They looped leis of orchids around the necks of the U.S. attorney general and his wife Ethel.

It was the traditional Balinese welcome.

The Kennedys flew in from Jogjakarta at the halfway mark of a six-day Indonesian tour.

BROWNSTONE GOTHIC

by Elizabeth Shenk

THE STORY: Addie, Mrs. Thorne's small son, is terrified by Maggy, one of the old servants of the Russells.

Chapter 11

The ballroom was filled with a chattering, milling crowd, and both Hilda and Jenny paused on the threshold.

It had been arranged that they were not to appear at the select group of forty who had been invited to dine before the reception. Nor was Jenny, not being out, to be part of the receiving line. Jenny and Hilda were to come down when Aunt Judith sent word that all the guests were assembled. If this was supposed to make Jenny's appearance inconspicuous, Hilda thought, it didn't succeed.

The orchestra was playing a selection of waltzes and, as Hilda gazed at the group presented to her, she fancied the plumes and aigrettes in the ladies' hair were nodding in time to the tunes. She looked with critical interest at the enormous bustles and lengthy trains, frilled, draped or flounced, and all representing, she thought irreverently, a solid backside of wealth.

She was amused to see the company step back to make a respectful corridor for Mrs. William Astor, who took a regal departure after supper.

After a while, Hilda's amusement turned to boredom, and then to irritation. It seemed somebody might speak to her, but no one did. She wondered if she couldn't just leave. It seemed obvious that her presence, or absence, would go unnoticed even by the Russell family.

Suddenly, her patience and sense of humor evaporated. She slipped along the wall, and left the room.

Upstairs, she went in to see that Addie was all right and, yawning, crossed to her own room. The first had gone out and the child was piercing. Shivering, she sat on the side of her bed, trying to get up the courage to undress.

The next thing she knew, she was being shaken awake and a voice was calling her on a sharp, frightened note.

"Hilda, wake up! We need you. Wake up!"

Hilda opened her eyes. Interdicted, Aunt Judith, pale and distraught, as bending over her. Hilda's sleepy confusion disappeared.

"What's wrong?" she asked, as she got to her feet.

"It's Jenny. She's having another attack."

Hilda was not surprised to find she was delegated to be Jenny's constant companion. But she was genuinely dismayed when Aunt Judith said she was to sleep in Jenny's rooms.

"Aunt Judith, I'm sorry to have to bring it up, but if I'm to be with Jenny, night and day, I'm really concerned about Addie."

Hilda thought her aunt seemed unable to recall who Addie might be, but she quickly recovered and barked Hilda's hand.

"I understand, Hilda. Naturally, we'll see that Addie is properly cared for." She paused and then seemed struck with an idea. "Of course! It's the very thing. How would it be if I were to persuade Miss Maggy to take charge of Addie?"

"No!" In her alarm, Hilda's voice rose. Aunt Judith frowned, and made a gesture for quiet.

"No, please don't do that," Hilda went on in a lower tone.

"But, why not?"

"I-I'm afraid you won't like it," Hilda began, haltingly, "but I must tell you that Addie and Miss Maggy don't get on at all. He-he's afraid of her. And she seems to hate him."

"Oh, come now," Aunt Judith's eyebrows rose. "How could Miss Maggy hate a seven-year-old?" She patted Hilda's hand again.

"It's not like you to be fanciful, Hilda."

Hilda stood up. "Aunt Judith, if

Big Push on for Places in Cage Tourneys

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

In the big push for a place in one of the post-season college basketball extravaganzas, giant steps were taken Thursday night by New York University, Loyola of Chicago, Dayton and Holy Cross.

All four are in the running for the 10 at-large berths in the NCAA tournament that decides the national collegiate champion or a spot in the 12-team National Invitational. They could be among the fortunate few on the receiving end when the two tournaments start sending out bids next Monday.

NYU's spirited Violets (12-3) knocked off West Virginia 95-75 at New York's Madison Square Garden, hustling into an early lead and staying in front all the way. Sophomore Barry Kramer paced NYU with 20 points. Rod Thorn clicked on only six of 24 field goal tries and had 18 points for the Mountaineers, regular season champions of the Southern Conference.

Vic House and Les Hunter alternated as hot scorers for Loyola (16-2) as the Ramblers won 88-80 at Marshall. House netted 20 points and had 17.

Holy Cross (15-3) romped on its home floor, trouncing St. Francis (N.Y.) 85-51. Jack Foley paced the Crusaders as usual with 25 points and 19 rebounds before leaving the game early in the second half.

Dayton (14-6) put on a freeze in the final three minutes, with a one-point lead, then got a tap-in from Bill Chmielewski just before the buzzer and beat Portland, (Ore.) 50-47.

On the conference front, Wake Forest made the top headline with a 97-79 Atlantic Coast romp over nationally seventh-ranked Duke.

The Citadel climbed out of the Southern Conference cellar and strengthened its chances for a place in the league's post-season playoffs with a 58-57 decision at Richmond. Furman held firm to third place in the conference, beating Davidson 83-65.

Billy McGill, the nation's No. 1 scorer, poured in 45 points for Utah in a 90-65 rout of New Mexico that carried the Utes into a tie for the Skyline Conference lead with Colorado State University.

Macon Trying to Work Out Race Trouble

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Mayor Edgar Wilson of Macon said he would call representatives of both sides together today in an effort to solve a Negro bus boycott and end a growing wave of violence in the middle Georgia city.

"I do not want to see a situation develop which will create harm that will take years to repair," he told a news conference Thursday after a hurried trip back from Washington.

Wilson said police were taking extra precautions in the tension-filled city but did not spell out details.

Negroes began the boycott Monday seeking desegregation of the city buses and job opportunities for members of their race. As the boycott cut into the revenue of the Bibb Transit Co., counter moves were made to supplement income.

The company purchased radio and television time urging white persons to "ride a bus and help break the boycott."

Numerous minor disturbances were reported Thursday. Several Negroes and white youths were arrested during downtown fist fights. Part of a windshield and two windows on a bus were smashed by rocks.

A bus containing several elementary school age children was struck by gunfire during the day but police said they could not tell whether the incident had anything to do with the boycott.

There were no injuries. Detectives said the shooting occurred near a weeded area where someone might have been hunting.

Farther south at Albany, Ga., Police Chief Laurie Pritchett said the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. of Atlanta has been called for trial in Recorder's Court Tuesday. The integration leader will be the first of 735 Negroes to be tried on charges of disorderly conduct and congregating to obstruct traffic during December racial disturbances.

King, who is president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, led a street demonstration against the earlier arrest of "Freedom riders" and others seeking to desegregate transportation terminals and facilities. A later Negro boycott shut down the city bus system.

Columbia Pulls Deal in Broadcasts

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The Columbia Broadcasting System, pulling a coup unequalled in sports broadcasting history, owned the two biggest football plums available today — the exclusive television rights for the regular season games of the National Football League and the nation's colleges, in 1962-63.

The network successfully bid a whopping $10.2 millions Thursday for the Saturday games of the National Collegiate Athletic Association after last month agreeing to pay $9.3 millions for NFL games. The network now will have a total expenditure of $19.5 millions for regular season football games alone, during the next two years.

The college pact was the biggest single package ever paid on a per year basis, with the NFL pact second. The National Broadcasting Co., which made a losing bid of $8.8 millions, is paying $20 million for a 5-year contract to present the World Series and All-Star baseball games.

CBS was an absolute darkhorse in the bidding, with NBC figured to fight it out with the American Broadcasting Co. for the rights. ABC held the pact for the past two years, paying $6.12 millions, and bid $8.7 Thursday.

The only other live football series is ABC's contract with the American Football League for its regular season and championship games. NBC, which lost two NFL teams when CBS signed its package deal with the pro league last month, owns the pros' title game, and also has various post-season college games.

Under terms of the NCAA television code, there will be 14 broadcast dates for each of the two years, an increase of one per year over the old contract. The first date this year is listed for Sept. 15. The series will conclude Dec. 8, the week after the Army-Navy game.

Judges to Study Road Systems

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas County Judges Association and the state Highway Department will undertake the first study in 15 years of the federal aid county road systems.

They agreed Thursday to work together on the project. State Rep. Marion H. Crank of Little River County, chairman of the Legislative Council's Committee on Roads and Highways, said the council had been asked to study the feasibility of transferring all secondary county roads to the state highway system.

The Highway Department told the council in January that such a plan could not be considered until a survey had been made to determine which roads should be in the system. During the past 15 years the state's population has shifted, the department said, and the present county system is out of date.

The committee will report to the council Friday on the proposed project.

State Fighters Do Well in Midlandsouth

MEMPHIS (AP) —Tough John Cross of Fort Smith knocked out Johnnie Guajardo Thursday night in the most impressive of the 22 opening bouts of the Midlandsouth Golden Gloves.

Cross, in a savage open welterweight brawl, caught the North Little Rock fighter with a sharp right that stretched him out for the full count of 10 after 49 seconds in the second round.

It was the only clean knockout of the night and came after Guajardo, who hails from England, Ark., had opened up a cut over Cross' left eye.

Johnnie was the second of the Guajardo brothers to taste defeat. In an earlier novice flyweight, Larry lost a split decision to Mike Dennison of Jackson, Tenn., who piled up points with long rights to the head. Two other brothers have yet to fight.

A Mississippi college student on the Jackson squad, Jerry Foshee, took a technical knockout over Larry Smith of Fort Smith, Ark., after opening a gash in Smith's brow in the second round. The fight was even to that point.

The deft jabs of Edward Hardio of Greenville, Miss., fighting on the Jackson team, gave him a split decision over Jerry Sheeks of Pine Bluff, Ark., three times Arkansas AAU champion. Sheeks landed harder but not as often.

The three-day tournament of champions continues tonight with the finals to come Saturday.

Other results included:

Novice bantamweight: Jerry Miller, Osceola, Ark., knocked out Abel Moreno, North Little Rock, 1:47 2nd.

Novice flyweight Larry Murray, Fort Smith, Ark., decided Jimmy Trotter, Jackson, Miss.

Open lightweight: Freddy Mills, Fort Smith, decided Garry Ray, Jackson, Tenn.

Novice welterweight: Nikki Underdord, Osceola, knocked out Donald Hendrix of Jackson, Tenn. 1:31 3rd.

Rewarded for Breaking Up Sale of Ducks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Anthony M. Stefano, the undercover agent whose work resulted in arrest of 161 persons for selling wild ducks and geese illegally last year, has been given a $750 superior performance award by the Interior Department.

It was the second time Stefano had won such an award. It was for gathering evidence which resulted in arrests in Arkansas, Louisiana, Virginia, North Carolina and Maryland.

The previous award came in 1958 after a similar roundup in Wisconsin, Michigan and Illinois in which 95 market hunters were arrested. Hunting of wild waterfowl for sale is illegal.

Director Daniel H. Janzen of the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife presented the award Thursday. He said Stefano's undercover operations involved great personal risk, and the fact that he was able to conduct them in association with a notoriously unlawful element is a tribute to his skill.

Stefano testified at the trials of many of the offenders, and a large number pleaded guilty. Stefano has been a criminal investigator for the Fish and Wildlife Service since 1952.

Oaklawn Park Opens 43-Day Racing Season

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Oaklawn Park opens its 43-day thoroughbred racing season Saturday with the $10,000 Inaugural Handicap, and a record 34 horses have been entered in the 5½-furlong dash.

The race will be run in two sections, climaxes the Oaklawn season on with two purses of $7,500. However, unless the muddy track dries out, the entry list is likely to be cut, said Racing Secretary Allan Levin.

The nominations include defending champion Eight Again, star of the William Hal Bishop stable and one of three entries by Bishop. Eight Again was assigned top weight of 118 pounds. The race is for 3-year-olds and up.

Bishop, who ranked second among the nation's trainers last year, recently acquired Eight Again from T. Alie Grissom, who disbanded his stable at New Orleans when trainer V. R. (Tennessee) Wright, who beat out Bishop for top honors in 1961, retired for health reasons.

Others on the nomination list Thursday included Mangam, who shares the Oaklawn mile and 70-yard record with Eight Again; Bumpy Road, a one-time crack sprinter returning for action after being sidelined by injuries; El Zag; Palanandy, and Statistician.

A stable expansion has given Oaklawn a capacity of 1,125 horses. The $25,000 added Arkansas Derby climaxes the Oaklawn season on April 7.

Others in the field are Rock Age, Kowlow, Blue Croon, Leadstealer, Under Water, Michael Henry, Go Good, Breakaway, Long Distance, High Quality, Whippleton, Gay Revue, Santiago, Mochoer, Magnitude, Don't Be Little, Cable King, Kurli San, Challeon, Challenger, Fun and Games, Bear Raven, Natego, Kirmie, True American and Talent Show.

A single race would limit the field to 12 starters.

Teachers Is Favorite for AIC Crown

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Arkansas State Teachers, leader and solid favorite in the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference basketball race, relaxed from league wars Thursday night and bombed Southwestern of Memphis 88-62.

Post man Howard Lamb tossed in 25 points and three other Bears scored in double figures in the runaway victory played as an exhibition game in Forrest City. Southern State's Mulieriders climbed out of the AIC cellar Thursday night with a thrilling 78-74 victory over Harding in Magnolia. Harding fell into last place.

Tonight, Arkansas Tech plays host to Arkansas A&M, Henderson visits Ozarks and Hendrix takes on Little Rock University in a non-conference game.

Tech still has a good chance at the title. If State Teachers loses one game, both teams will have three losses, but Tech plays two more games than Teachers and could win it on a percentage basis.

Teachers stretched its record to 19-3 with the victory over Southwestern. The Bears grabbed an early lead and pushed it to 51-33 at halftime. Ken Gan and Ronnie Annis led Southwestern with 17 points each. Southwestern hit only 34 per cent of its field goal attempts while the Bears were dunking 62 per cent.

Jerry Myers scored 31 points in pacing Southern State past Harding. Vernon Rogers led Harding, with 23.

The game was even until Harding took a 70-62 lead with 5:17 left. Southern rallied and with 1:31 left Charles Crumpler gave the Mulieriders their final lead with a layup.
